Welcome to the World of Accuracy!

Discover the world of Accuracy, where you'll find the highest standards, expertise and truly talented professionals, as well as great opportunities for training and career development. Accuracians would be happy to discuss this opportunity with you.

All shortlisted candidates will be invited to our office for interviews. We prefer the interview phase to be in-depth and detailed in order to provide candidates with a thorough understanding of both the role they are applying for and the company itself.

Should your application be successful, this understanding will be enhanced at the Accuracy School, by working on stimulating assignments and attending our many seminars – these are just a few examples of how we help you develop your career with Accuracy.

With that said, I hope to see you very soon.

Frédéric Duponchel,
Managing Partner

Early Stages.

The recruitment process

At Accuracy, the recruitment process is challenging (see our 'Tips for Candidates' brochure on our website careers.accuracy.com). Only a small percentage of candidates seen in the first interview are offered positions at Accuracy. Such selectivity assures the successful future of our consultants. Intellectual skills, commercial potential and the desire to be part of the team are key characteristics of a successful candidate.

The Accuracy School

Two weeks of intensive training take place each summer for our new analysts and associates from all Accuracy offices. These two weeks include theoretical training, team case studies and, of course, socialising and meeting new colleagues.

Ongoing training

As well as the assurance of continuous support on our assignments, you are constantly encouraged to develop your career at Accuracy through intensive seminars, technical training sessions, communication skills workshops, active listening, self-training modules and much more. Professional qualifications are also encouraged and supported.

And after?

Mentoring

You are supervised by a mentor, and your career progression, aspirations, performance and promotions are looked at and discussed in an open, friendly and personalised manner.

Assignments

The absence of barriers between our different areas of expertise allows you to explore a diverse range of assignments. In line with your aspirations, you'll be able to work in different fields, sectors and countries.

Promotions

We have a clear path for career progression at Accuracy and it is driven by you. Your progression through the roles of Analyst, Associate, Manager, Senior Manager, Director and Partner is guided by your performance, with promotions based on merit.

The international advantage

Our international coverage and our numerous assignments abroad mean regular opportunities to work in different countries. These assignments are frequently carried out by a multinational team of Accuracy consultants. Secondments and transfers are encouraged to fit your personal preferences.

Our Difference.
